

Namrata Sharma from Nepal: Action plan

Introductory statement

Community involvement in forest and natural resource management is very important in Nepal. The natural resources decline day to day.

Goal

To preserve additional forest & natural resources

Barriers:

- Attitudes in NGOs ; USAID, ICIMOD
- Lack of awareness about how communities relate to forests
- Difficulties for communication& transportation of villagers

Benefits:

- Improved management of forest & Natural resources
- Organized villagers (empowered villager)

| Action   | Indicator of success                        | Resources needed   |
|--|---|--|
| Design a program to raise the interest of the communities on natural resource management | Complete program ready to take to the field | Community development experts time to design program 1 month |
| Deliver program in communities   | Number of communities joining the program   | Transportation   |
| Training the villager  | Less depletion of the natural resources     | Education materials  |

Key stakeholder

Benefit positively: The villagers have access to Natural Resources
RDIC obtain a good reputation

Benefit negatively: Some higher-class people don't want change
Some villagers may not agree with these new ideas
